- Join us at the AMCP Managed Care & Specialty Pharmacy Annual Meeting 2017 pre-meeting training program to collaborate with leading managed care experts.
 - Gain critical insights into the complex network of recent changes, current trends, and future evolutions.
 - Acquire evidence-based knowledge and actionable tools that you can share throughout your organization to serve your customers now and into the future.

”In the new health care world that increasingly values access, affordability, and improved outcomes, your knowledge and expertise has never been more relevant. In this time of amazing innovation, an evidence-based approach has never been more important. Yes, indeed, you’re the right people at the right place at the right time. The Academy is committed to being your partner during this time of opportunity and change.”

Susan A. Cantrell, RPh, CAE,
Chief Executive Officer of AMCP

There is no consensus on how to address the issues confronting America’s evolving health care delivery systems. However, we can all agree—no matter your role—that we’re faced with unprecedented complexity. You are charged with guiding your customers through this complex system; you must have the right expertise at the right time to deliver the best possible value to them.

What can you expect? This program is a diverse mix of comprehensive online learning materials, expert faculty lectures and panels, interactive case scenarios, as well as group discussions and networking opportunities with key opinion leaders from across the industry.

You can expect an integrated overview of today’s key trends and concerns, evidence-based insights, and actionable tools that will help you implement improved strategies for the future.

Our goal in the Managed Care and Integrated Delivery Systems training program is to grant you the critical acumen that you need in order to answer the vital question for your organization and customers: What’s Next?

AGENDA

ACOs, IDNs, and Provider Groups—Emerging health care entities

- Differentiate between ACOs and IDNs, and learn how ACOs work
- Learn how ACOs and IDNs can change how U.S. health care delivery is reimbursed, from Medicare to commercial populations
- Understand the forces for consolidation that encourage the formation of IDNs and ACOs
- Consider how the pharmaceutical industry can participate in improving value with ACOs and IDNs

Population Health and the Patient Experience—Collaboration is the key to success

- Understand the movement toward and impacts of population health, including quality metrics, CAHPS surveys, patient-reported outcomes, and EMR data integration for analysis and quality improvement
- Learn how organizations, through partnerships and collaborations, are increasing their commitment to care management and what infrastructures are being put in place to improve care
- See why the patient experience is a key priority for IDNs/ACOs and where they are focusing to improve the patient experience
- Gain insight into the CMS Oncology Care Model and its impact on the coordination and quality of oncology care, including CMS partnership with payers

The Risk-Based Future

Featuring: Reality & Relevance Panels

- Understand why providers are being asked to take on more financial risk, what type of risk they are willing or able to accept, and what this means in terms of improving health care value
- Understand the increasing pressure to manage the higher costs of specialty drugs and the demand for more evidence of comparative effectiveness
- Discuss examples of risk contracting for medications, as well as other approaches for partnering with ACOs, IDNs, and payers in a value-based health care environment

The Growing Role of Specialty Pharmaceuticals—Key challenges and opportunities with IDNs and provider groups

- Understand your stakeholder priorities and concerns, including insight into your customers' decision-making process on specialty drug use and industry partners
- Learn the challenges facing specialty drug management, such as site-of-care issues, and how integrated specialty care models and provider groups play a role
- Understand the complexities of optimizing specialty pharmacy outcomes, including patient-support programs and biosimilars, and how pharmaceutical manufacturers may be asked to play a role in managing total health care costs

IDN/ACO Point of View—Creating successful relationships

- Learn from an expert consultant who will explain the workings of IDNs, giving you a unique insider view to their operations, as well as business and clinical perspectives
- Dive deeper on best practices, hearing from industry experts on what keeps IDN leaders up at night, how they are navigating changes to delivery systems, and where they see partnership opportunities

Reality & Relevance Panels

- Connect what you've learned to your daily practice as you hear, first hand, from over 10 customers, how training concepts are applied across the industry. This unique opportunity will give you an edge as you gain insider insights into stakeholder priorities, concerns, values, and experiences, with the opportunity to ask the questions most relevant to you.

“The Account Team Training program provided a great forum to gain practice that I can begin implementing immediately upon returning to my day-to-day business activities.”
